Laboratory Procedures

KM 11060 is supplied as a crystalline solid. A stock solution may be made by dissolving the KM 11060 in the solvent of choice, which should be purged with an inert gas. KM 11060 is soluble in organic solvents such as ethanol, DMSO, and dimethyl formamide. The solubility of KM 11060 in these solvents is approximately 0.5, 2, and 5 mg/ml, respectively.

Description

KM 11060 is a small molecule that corrects the processing of cystic fibrosis transmembrane conductance regulator (CFTR) proteins bearing the F508 deletion (F508del) mutation carried by 90% of cystic fibrosis patients.¹ It increases cell surface expression and restores chloride transport function of F508del-CFTRs in BHK cells at a concentration of 10 μM. KM 11060 restores F508del-CFTR function, as measured by cAMP-stimulated iodide efflux, in CFBE41o⁻ human airway epithelial cells at a concentration of 10 nM. It also restores the secretory response to approximately 51% of wild-type levels ex vivo in ileum isolated from F508del-CFTR mice at a concentration of 20 μM.
