Laboratory Procedures

Bongrekic acid is supplied as a solution in 0.01 M Tris buffer, pH 7.5. To change the solvent, simply evaporate the Tris buffer under a gentle stream of nitrogen and immediately add the solvent of choice. Solvents such as DMSO purged with an inert gas can be used. Bongrekic acid is miscible in DMSO.

Description

Bongrekic acid is polyketide and bacterial toxin that has been found in B. gladioli.^{1,2} It is an inhibitor of ADP/ATP translocase (AAT), a carrier protein that imports ADP into the mitochondrial matrix and exports ATP into the intermembrane space.^{1,3} It prevents ADP import and inhibits mitochondrial respiration ($K_i = 20$ nM in isolated rat liver mitochondria).^{4,5} Bongrekic acid induces cell death in MCF-7 human breast cancer cells deprived of estradiol for six months ($EC_{50} = 2.58$ μM).⁶ It is toxic to mice (LD_{50} s = 0.68-6.84 mg/kg, p.o.).⁷
